European Family Law Seminars

Dott.ssa Denise Amram (Scuola Superiore S. Anna)

Giovedì 20 marzo 2014, ore 9.30 (aula 8)

Does a European Family Law exist? Exploring Different Family Models in Europe

Giovedì 27 marzo 2014, ore 9.30 (aula 8)

Pursuing the Best Interest of the Child during the Crisis of the Family

The focus of the seminars is to present the most recent European debates concerning family relationships and children's protection. In particular, they will explore the roles played by EU and ECtHR's case-law both in the development of comparative studies on family law and on the recent legislative initiatives drafted, proposed or enacted in several European systems.

The first seminar delves into the recognition of non-traditional families, while the second one deals with issues arising from parent-child relationships. Seminars materials are available on <http://docente.unife.it/clusia.amodio/european-private-law-seminars.zip/view>.

Denise Amram (PhD in Law from Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna and Qualified Solicitor in Pisa) enriched her experience in Comparative Family Law and European Family Law undertaking research both in Italy and abroad, including France (Université Panthéon-Assas and Université Panthéon-Sorbonne), The Netherlands (Utrecht University), Ireland (University College Dublin) and USA (Columbia University and Harvard Law School). She authored and co-authored several publications in Italian, French, English, and Spanish, including two co-editions.
